Boston in New-England, July 9.

The Speech of his Excellency Francis Nicholson, Esq; Captain General and Governour in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of South-Carolina, &c. May 24, 1722.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen,

I Hope (in God) that as we have hitherto begun and ended our Meetings in Assembly in a mutual Satisfaction, so we may this too.

His Majesty's Interest and Service and that of this His Province (those two Inseparables) requiring it, or else I would not have called you together at this Time. The good Understanding between His Majesty's honourable Council and your House, I also hope will continue. For my own Part, I would not desire to be Governour any longer than there is a Harmony amongst us in General, though in some Particulars it may be otherwise, for as we are Men we may Err.

Honourable Gentlemen,

I recommend to you to appoint a Committee of the House to join with a Committee of His Majesty's Honourable Council on the Affair of the Creek Indians, and what we have done concerning that Affair, is herewith delivered you: This Affair of the Indians I take to be of the last Consequence.

The late Mr. Garratt, Factor for the South-Sea Company, on inquiring of him what he heard at the Havanah (from whence he came) concerning this Country, he told me that the Governour of St. Augustine had sent to the Governour of the Havanah, giving an Account of our building the Fort King George, and that the Messengers were stopt some Days there till a Ship went to St. Augustine which came from the Viceroy of Mexico, with Money, Cloaths, &c. for the Garrison; and I suppose the Governour of the Havanah will send to the said Viceroy an Account about our Fort; and I am apprehensive they will use all the Ways and Means they can to disturb us there.

What Account the Honourable John Lloyd, Esq; your Agent, hath sent to the Committee of Correspondence, I suppose will be laid before you, by which you will see how your Affairs are.

I do not in the least doubt the Continuance of your Zeal for His Majesty's Interest and Service, and that of this Province, and that you'll take effectual Measures accordingly. You may depend upon what Assistance can be given therein by me.

I being under some Doubt concerning the Writ for Election for a Member for this Town in the Room of Major William Blakeway, as to the Time, I have not yet issued it, therefore I desire your Resolution therein.

Whither you will make this a long or shorter Session is left to you, by . . .

Cecil County in Maryland, May 24. This Morning about Two a-Clock there arose a Gust and a Clap of Thunder, which struck the East-End of the House of Mr. Abel van Burkeloo, tore the Roof to Pieces, ranged the Garret, stove down all the Gable End, and coming through the Floor into a Chamber, melted a Sword in the Scabbard, and likewise a Looking-Glass, shivered a Corner Post into a Thousand Pieces, together with the Partition below. In the Room where the Gable End was carried away were 10 Persons, who received no hurt, (blessed be God), except only one Child, and that not dangerously.

Moscow, July 8. Prince Valenski, Governour of Tobolskoy, writes to his Friends, that a Body of 12000 Muscovites, provided with a good Train of Artillery, and other Camp-Necessaries, are in full March towards the Frontiers of Georgia. The Board of Trade is not yet set out for Petersburg, the Commissioners not having yet finished several Matters under their Care relating to Commerce. Although M. Wilde, Minister of Holland, has frequent Conferences with the Senate, touching the Satisfaction he demands in the Name of the States his Masters, for some Dutch Ships that were burnt formerly at Helsingfors in Finland, he has not yet succeeded in that Particular.

Stockholm, July 28. Since M. Bestuchef, the Czar's Minister, dispatched an Express to Petersburg, with the Answer he received from this Court, to certain Propositions he made before the King of Sweden's Departure to Schonen, he has kept himself quiet from publick Business; but upon Count Horn's Recovery from his late Indisposition, M. Bestuchef has renewed his Instances with him concerning the Treaty of Commerce between Sweden and Muscovy; and has also informed him, that an Officer dispatched by the Duke of Holstein is on his Way to this Kingdom to reside here, in order to take Care of the Interests of the Duke his Master. It is reported, that after the Queen has used the Baths of Medwig, her Majesty will set out to meet the King in Schonen, and accompany him the rest of his Journey; 'tis also reported, that his Swedish Majesty and the King of Denmark are to have an Interview on the Island of Huen, situated between Denmark and Schonen: The Mortality there still continues among the Cattle, also at Bleking, and other Provinces, to the great Damage of the Inhabitants; the Cause of it is attributed to the cold Rains which have lately fallen in great Abundance in those Parts.
